

Time for “Revival Outside the Walls”

With a refreshing “common man” style of communication, Barry Meguiar brings a whole new way to look at personal evangelism with a new 1:00 daily feature launching April 7.

Many people know you as the “Car Crazy” Guy. What do you enjoy about that visibility? Akin to the Prayer of Jabez, God confirmed to me years ago that He was going to enlarge my territory so I could bring Him more glory. God’s increased the awareness of who I am to increase my opportunities to share Him with others. As a result, every day’s an adventure and I love it!

Ok. So I have to ask you— what’s your favorite car? Because we sponsor more Car Shows and Car Clubs than anyone else in the world, I’ve grown to love cars of all types and descriptions. However, my first love is my first car – my black ‘57 Chevrolet Bel Air Hardtop ... and every time I drive it I feel like I’m still 16 years old again.

You’ve been a successful businessman. What have you learned about faith in that context? Regardless of where we are or what we’re doing, we must walk by faith (with no wavering) and not by sight. (James 1:6) When we worry we’re not trusting, I learned to trust God with my whole heart through the good times and the bad and in every major decision. I learned that whole-hearted faith guarantee’s God directed steps! (Prov 3:5)

Your passion for Christ is infectious. When did that happen? When did you accept Christ as Savior? I accepted the Lord when I was 12 years old. For the next ten years I loved God intellectually. Right out of college, I was given responsibilities far beyond my experience and He answered my prayers for help with great clarity. It was then that my intellectual love turned into heartfelt love and then to the celebration of His Love every moment of every day.

“In 1976, after 3 years of exciting faith sharing, I prayed the most fervent prayer of my life. I asked God if He wanted me to go into full time ministry.

Less than 20 minutes later, the Spirit of the Lord led a man I didn’t know into my office with the message: ‘Your business is your pulpit’. I never questioned God’s purpose for my life again.”

You make sharing faith so simple ... is it really something that everyone can do? Sharing our faith is inextricably connected to our love for God. When we trust God with our whole heart and witness His faithfulness, we can’t help but love Him with our whole heart. And when we love Him with our whole heart, we can’t stop ourselves from sharing His love with everyone around us. This is the ‘sweet spot’ with God!

You seem to be boundless in your enthusiasm for evangelism. Do you ever need to re-charge your battery and, if so, what does that for you? There’s nothing, in all of human existence, that gives you the energy boost of leading someone to the Lord. It’s the exact opposite of running out of gas. I never need to be re-charged because I’m always in the middle of sharing my faith with someone. Show me a Christian who’s run out of gas and I’ll show you a person who never shares their faith.

Is there someone you would call a spiritual mentor in your life? I’ve been blessed with a multitude of Godly men who have mentored me over the years including Dr. James Dobson who has been my lifelong friend and hero. However, sharing close friendship and ministry with David Wilkerson, for over 40 years, radically changed my life forever.

Do you have a “life verse” or a scripture that would describe your mission for revival?

Second only to John 3:16, I believe the greatest promise in the Bible is given to us in Romans 8:28. In it, God promises to make everything in our lives work together for good (from now until we get to heaven) if we love Him and live our lives for His Purpose, which is the redemption of mankind ... that not one should be lost.

AIR THE NEW ROTW :60

The idea is to equip lay people—the soccer mom, the businessman, the teacher and the waitress—all of us ... to look outside the walls of the church at those who populate our daily lives ... and experience the power of sharing God’s love in everyday moments.

In “ROTW60” Barry puts the fun into winning others to Christ. His enthusiasm is infectious—and empowering.

Every day’s feature provides practical “how to” examples ... easy ways for every one of us to begin “bubbling over” in our faith so that others will be drawn to Him.

“God’s called us to change our world, one person at a time—and it’s time to get busy. With more than 70% of the unchurched saying they would likely accept an invitation to church, less than 2% of us gave even one of them an invite in the last 12 months. You and I are the problem!”
