On This Day...

MONDAY 6/08

It's tea time! FDR welcomes King George VI to America with hopes of strengthening ties with Great Britain. 1939 marked the first time British Monarchy had journeyed to America.

TUESDAY 6/09

And they're off! In 1973, Secretariat won the Triple Crown, in record time. Might we suggest an entertaining history lesson — watch "the horse of the century" in the movie, Secretariat.

WEDNESDAY 6/10

Imagine the last few months without electricity. We have Benjamin Franklin to thank for this discovery. In 1752, Ben flew a kite in a thunderstorm to capture an electrical charge.

THURSDAY 6/11

The year is 1979: John Wayne dies and Hollywood cries. Remembered for his patriotism, America's cowboy starred in his last film, The Shootist, which paralleled his final days.

FRIDAY 6/12

"Mr. Gorbachev, tear down this wall." President Ronald Reagan's famous words, spoken from Berlin in 1987 to Soviet Leader Mikhail Gorbachev, remind us of freedom and unity!
