

For the week of:
10|16|2023

Get the low-down from a high-up perspective!

the mAAA^x

MONDAY 10/16

Happy National Boss' Day! Our workplaces wouldn't be able to function smoothly without their guidance, vision, and encouragement. Show your boss how much you appreciate them by writing them a card, treating them to lunch, or bringing them a thoughtful gift today.

TUESDAY 10/17

It's impastable to find a more delicious holiday than National Pasta Day! This dish originated in China thousands of years ago and legend has it that explorer Marco Polo introduced it to Italy. From penne to ravioli, there are over 600 pasta shapes and countless sauces that are enjoyed around the world today.

WEDNESDAY 10/18

Did you know that Alaska is the biggest state, measuring three times larger than France, yet is the least densely populated state? October 18 is National Alaska Day because in 1867 the United States purchased this beautiful territory from Russia for only two cents per acre!

THURSDAY 10/19

After three weeks of constant bombardment, the British military surrendered to American forces in the Battle of Yorktown in 1781, bringing an end to the revolution. The untrained American army's victory was so unexpected that British troops played a song while surrendering titled "The World Turned Upside Down."

FRIDAY 10/20

Whether you write stories, poems, blogs, letters, emails, or even grocery lists, writing is an important part of our daily lives. There's no better way to celebrate the National Day on Writing than to spend some time practicing your creativity with the pen. Keep calm and write on!

DID YOU KNOW?

- Women CEOs run 10.4% of Fortune 500 companies.
- 'Spaghetti' is the singular word for spaghetti. Generally speaking, Italian words ending in "O" are singular and words ending in "I" are plural.
- Alaska is home to 17 of North America's tallest mountains and two of America's largest national forests!
- British General Cornwallis, claiming to be sick, had General Charles O'Hara officially surrender at the Battle of Yorktown.
- Robert Frost's first poem, "My Butterfly," was published in 1894 in the New York Independent newspaper.

... And the Latest from Ambassador

Merry Christmas!

Watch the A-List and Update or check our website for info on the special holiday programming available for use at this Christmas season—we've got it all ... long-form, short form, fun family reflections, evangelistic messages and the voices of children reciting beloved Scripture. Contact Rebecca@ambaa.com!

I lift up my eyes to the mountains— where does my help come from? My help comes from the Lord, The Maker of heaven and earth.

Psalms 121:1-2

