DID YOU KNOW?

Talk about "Making Your Life Count"! Cru offers over 100 opportunities for summer missions trips for high school and collegiate young adults. From Anchorage (Alaska) to Zambia, short term or weeks-long, you'll find a comprehensive list at the cru.org website—just look for summer missions information and share the invitation to a lifechanging experience!

Summarizing some of the impact of Focus on the Family last year, their Research & Insights team has tallied that the ministry's resources and outreach efforts helped more than 193,000 people make a decision for Christ in the last year and have undergirded more than 580,000 couples to build stronger marriages. Ask Jennifer@ ambaa.com for a "Talking Points" sheet with all the details.

You can download a full 2023 Annual Ministry Report from Evangelism Explosion ("Share Life Today") at their website. Some of the thrilling reflections include training over 9,700 children in sharing their faith through "Hope for Kids" and holding over 2,100 EE events globally under the leadership of John Sorensen and a dedicated team.

THE LATEST FROM AMB-OS

I'm a list guy.

The reason is this: my memory fails me far too often. So, most times, the only way I can get something done is by making a "to-do" list. I have notepads and scratch paper within reach everywhere I go, just in case something bubbles up from the recesses of my mind that needs attention.

My friend and college mentor, former Biola University President Clyde Cook, used to quote the old Chinese proverb when he gave me an assignment: He'd say, "'The shortest pencil is worth more than the longest memory.' Jim, if you want to remember something, write it down!" He was right! And so began a lifelong habit.

Now, if I may be candid, after all these years, I find the list-making process satisfying. Even enjoyable. So much so, I confess there are times when I've written something down only to immediately scratch it off the list just for the fleeting joy of accomplishing one more task. Nothing more satisfying than a page full of crossed-off completed responsibilities.

Lists are so powerful it's no surprise that God gives us a list for right living. That first list—the Decalogue—had a little something to do with establishing civil conduct and remains the basis for Western civilization to this day. That's an impressive achievement for a simple list. But then, even better than the 10 Commandments is that "...God sent a Savior to fulfill it completely (Matt. 5:17-20)!"

You may use some of these same lists, but here are a few of my favorites:

- Prayer requests and answers with the date started and completed. It's wonderful to look back on the Lord's faithful answers to prayer. (I admit that, at times, there are prayers not answered for which I'm equally grateful!)
- Groceries. You know about that: a grocery list is that thing you make at home, leave on the kitchen counter and then try to remember what's on it.
- Errands, running in the most efficient order to reduce the mileage between stops.
- Household chores from simple to complex (I like to get the easiest things done first).
- And then there's the proverbial bucket list. So many places to go, so little time and money to get there!

I was pleased to run across a piece by author J.D. Meier about the many benefits of making lists. In his article listed below, he highlights at least three:

- 1. Lists help you to Clear Your Mind. Creating lists makes it easier to clear your mind. Instead of trying to remember things, you can simply look at your list.
- 2. Lists give you the Bird's-Eye View. A list can help you step back and see the full picture. When you jot down all the plates you're spinning in your mind, it's easier to see the scope of what's burning neurons in your brain.
- 3. Think On Paper. When you write things down, you give yourself another chance to be more objective. There's a concreteness to your tasks ahead. When things swirl around in your head, it's easy for them to get distorted, but writing things down provides precision (sourcesofinsight.com/the-power-of-lists/).

So here's to list-making. May your "shortest pencil" help your "longest memory!"

SEEN ABOUT

The Connecting Continues!

Whether in person or even online, it's always great to be with fellow broadcasters!

This year's annual Shepherd's Conference (John MacArthur) hosted more than 5000 pastors and ministry leaders including Matt Austin (KCBI-Dallas), Rich Bott (Bott Radio Network), Troy Miller (NRB), astronaut Jeff Williams (Grace to You) and Jay Flowers (Grace to You).

One of his favorite assignments is interfacing with collegiate—exactly what Brad Mattes ("Life Issues" and "Straight Talk on Life Issues") was doing recently with Students for Life leaders at North Carolina State University.

It was wonderful for several of us to join Joni Eareckson Tada and Ken with Joni and Friends radio team members Catherine Cobb and Rainey Floreen when Joni spoke in Chapel at Azusa Pacific University. It also provided an opportunity for Joni to meet APU students who have been recipients of the scholarship in her name at the University!

It's been a privilege to produce the messages of Tom Pennington, former Director of Grace to You and now pastor at Countryside Church in Dallas, for release on "The Word Unleashed"—great to visit with the team that makes that possible including David Sparks and Lance Burroughs with Mark Conner and Bill Reitler.

Our Charley Mefferd enjoyed hometown fellowship with Jeff Mitchell (GM) and Shane Moore (Ministry Director) from KWRD (Dallas TX). And we can tell you these folks can't wait to host everyone for NRB '25!

It's been awhile since we've featured a recipe from the Ambassador Family Cookbook but this is too good to miss adding to the collection. By the way, if you've got one you ought to share, let us know! We'll send you our recipe book in exchange for that!

FROM OUR KITCHEN

Meet the Chef

Recently Raeanne Newquist stepped into the speaker's role for The Mercy Minute, a production from Mercy Ships. Her ability to share the passion for showing mercy in every aspect of life is evident with each day's 1:00 feature. (She writes the scripts as well as voices each feature!) If you didn't read the introduction to Raeanne in the October '23 edition of Update, check it out online at our website. With a degree from Pepperdine and further studies at Fuller Seminary, Raeanne has a rich ministry background ... and, apparently, is a great cook too!

Newquist Family Ginger Cookies

Many people say that you don't just marry a person, you marry a family. Well in my case, I also married the family recipes! When I married my husband 20 years ago (this September), I quickly learned that The Newquist Family Ginger Cookies would be something I'd need to learn to make right away! These soft, cake-like, dark brown cookies with white frosting are filled with warm spices that usher in the holidays. Of course they can be made anytime of the year, but for us, they are a Christmas tradition. In fact, my husband would say it's not Christmas until the first batch of Ginger Cookies comes out!

My father-in-law had three aunts — Halloween, Boots and Kitty. Yes, those were their real names! Kitty was the one who made the Ginger Cookies and sometimes my father-in-law actually refers to them as "Kitty Cookies." As much as I could eat them year-round, there is something special about waiting for Christmas to make these delicious cookies. For what they lack in appearance, they more than make up for in flavor and comfort.

Ingredients

14 c Crisco 1⁄2 c sugar 1 egg 1⁄2 c "Green Label" molasses (This is what the family recipe says! But any dark molasses will work)

Mix the above 4 ingredients and beat well

Add all following ingredients and beat well:

2 c sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 tsp. salt 1 tsp. baking soda 1 tsp. ginger 1/2 tsp. nutmeg 1/2 tsp. ground cloves 1/2 tsp. cinnamon

*Here's a little tip: When measuring out the spices, measure a second batch into a small zip lock bag. Then when you want to make your second batch the next week (or next day!) you'll already have the spices measured out! After the dry ingredients are combined with the wet, slowly add ½ cup of hot water, a tablespoon at a time, until a smoother consistency is reached. You will not add the whole ½ cup! The dough should be like chocolate chip cookie dough consistency.

Drop by the tablespoon on a lightly greased cookie sheet about 2 inches apart.

Bake 6-8 minutes in a 400 degree oven. (Baking time will vary according to your oven and the size of your dough drops.) Cookies should be slightly soft to the touch when they come out of the oven. Let cool on the cookie sheet for about 5 minutes.

Great Aunt Kitty made homemade frosting. However, once I came into this recipe, the family was using canned frosting! Pillsbury white frosting is preferred. not vanilla frosting – there is a difference!

Aunt Kitty's Homemade Frosting:

1 c powdered sugar ½ to 2 Tablespoons cream or milk ½ tsp. vanilla

Frost warm cookies and enjoy!

Worth Considering

"To be a mother is by no means second class. Men may have the authority in the home, but the women have the influence. The mother, more than the father, is the one who molds and shapes those little lives from day one."

— John MacArthur
